

MACLEAN-FOGG COMPANY PURCHASES SAEGERTOWN MANUFACTURING COMPANY

MacLean-Fogg Company of Mundelein, Illinois announces the purchase of Saegertown Manufacturing Company, Saegertown, Pennsylvania, a manufacturer of specialized engineered metal components for diverse applications in North America including mining, home construction, and automotive market places.

Duncan MacLean, President of MacLean Vehicle Systems, a MacLean-Fogg business unit, stated, "Saegertown's expertise in metal forming, machining and other operations provides additional opportunities for growth in North America and Europe. We look forward to providing Saegertown's additional skills to MacLean-Fogg's family of skills."

Chalmer Jordan, owner and CEO of Saegertown, commented, "We are pleased that MacLean-Fogg will carry on the fine traditions we have developed at Saegertown over the past forty years both with our employees and our very valuable diversified customers."

MacLean Vehicle Systems is a worldwide market leader in plastics and composites, fasteners, powertrain, and suspension and linkages with 16 locations in the United States, Asia, and Europe. MVS offers design engineering, production and distribution capabilities to the automotive, truck/trailer, off-road, recreational, farm equipment, military and aerospace markets.

MacLean-Fogg Company is a worldwide enterprise with 23 North American manufacturing facilities, 11 international facilities, and a worldwide workforce of more than 2,000 people. The Company provides engineered fasteners, transmission components, and suspension devices to auto, truck, and equipment producers worldwide as well as automatic connectors, composite insulators, distributor and transmission hardware, and unique electrical products to utilities markets.

For more information contact Harald Dorth, Managing Director PWK Krefeld GmbH & Co. KG
Tel: 02151-581-147